“ I met Dave through our mutual friend, Michael Trainer. We had a small group that played basketball for a couple of years when in our 20's. Although these were friends, some were ball hogs and not that nice when a basketball was in their hands. Not David. He was always the same likeable guy, whether on or off the court. I heard him play the guitar on a number of occasions. Sadly we lost touch (we were in our 20's) but I last talked to him about five years back inviting him to a reunion, but family commitment prevented it. I wish I knew about his love for history, as a former teacher, I've been teaching retirees in various east side programs and I would of invited him to a class on the Presidents, Civil War or Black History. Dave was a great guy. My deepest condolences to his wife and family. May his memory be for a blessing. Steve Schecter
