“ Cara and I sent our love and sympathy to all the Alden family.

We had a wonderful visit with Larry and Connie in San Antonio a couple of years ago.

Although Larry was having great difficulty and pain with a knee, he still managed to be upbeat and cheerful. It was wonderful to remember our lives as a family and to remember all the Aldens. We are so glad we had that wonderful evening with him.

We send our love and sympathy to the Alden family.

“ I was very touched when Larry brought his father David to my father, Paul's funeral, all the way from Ohio to South Carolina. My younger brother and I returned the gesture when David passed away. My wife Sandy and I so enjoyed an all too brief visit with Connie and Larry this past summer. Although we hadn't seen each other in years, I knew Larry in an instant when I saw him again. Looking for a sweet reunion some years from now in the hereafter up yonder. Love and hugs across the miles.

“ Friend, please don't mourn for me
I'm still here, though you don't see.
I'm right by your side each night and day
and within your heart I long to stay.
My body is gone but I'm always near.
I'm everything you feel, see or hear.
My spirit is free, but I'll never depart
as long as you keep me alive in your heart.
I'll never wander out of your sight-
I'm the brightest star on a summer night.
I'll never be beyond your reach-
I'm the warm moist sand when you're at the beach.
I'm the colorful leaves when fall comes around and the pure white snow that blankets the ground.
I'm the beautiful flowers of which you're so fond,
The clear cool water in a quiet pond.
I'm the first bright blossom you'll see in the spring,
The first warm raindrop that April will bring.
I'm the first ray of light when the sun starts to shine,
and you'll see that the face in the moon is mine.
When you start thinking there's no one to love you,
you can talk to me through the Lord above you.
I'll whisper my answer through the leaves on the trees,
and you'll feel my presence in the soft summer breeze.
I'm the hot salty tears that flow when you weep
and the beautiful dreams that come while you sleep.
I'm the smile you see on a baby's face.
Just look for me, friend, I'm everywhere!

Our prayers and thoughts are with your families. Rick and Ann
